

Indice

- 5 ELIANA MAESTRI, ELEONORA FEDERICI, GIULIA GIORGI, Translation as a Site of Agency and Activism. Acts of Resistance and Change
- 15 MARÍA ESCOBAR-AGUIAR, Militant Translation. Towards a Definition of a Situated Concept
- 41 CLAUDIA CAPANCIONI, Sarah Austin's Transnational Advocacy for National Education in Nineteenth-Century Europe
- 67 LUPE ROMERO, Avances y resistencias en la introducción de la perspectiva de género en el aula de traducción. Una experiencia docente
- 89 JULIA KÖLBL, Constructing Activist Translation in History. Women Translators' Activist Engagement in Austria and Germany, 1871-1918
- 117 ELEONORA FEDERICI, Looking for Feminist Translators. Texts, Translators and the Creation of a Feminist Genealogy of Theories and Practices
- 135 ELIANA MAESTRI, Ecotranslation, Artvocracy and Care. A Creative Response to Climate Change Communication
- 167 RAY WANG, The Performative and Transformative Site of Homosexuality in Call Me by Your Name. Translating Queer Fuck into Chinese
- 195 NATAŠA RASCHI, Translation as Regeneration. On the Works of Paulette Nardal, Véronique Tadjo and Werewere Liking
- 209 C. BRUNA MANCINI, Translating into Italian Charlotte Perkins Gilman's Herland (1915)
- 231 ANNA LEE-POPHAM, Empires of the Everyday. Poetry as Translation of Empire